National Association for Asian American Professionals (NAAAP) is a non-profit organization that provides members and the AAPI community opportunities to grow professionally and to grow their network. The annual convention traditionally holds +500 attendees but this year, we have “shifted” to a virtual convention for your safety.

Leaders from large corporations and successful entrepreneurs to learn how they shifted objectives and gained success during a new normal. Topics can range from perseverance, career tips, rock bottom failures to successful stories.
